About the Camp: Pacific University Baseball is proud to announce its annual Holiday Prospect Clinic Sessions for Hitting, Pitching, and Defense. The Camp will be directed by the Pacific University Baseball Coaching Staff and will accommodate all high school players (recommended for players ages 14-18).

Areas covered for the Pitching Clinic sessions will include pitching mechanics, off speed pitches, pick offs, PFPs, conditioning, med balls, bands, and mental game. The Hitting Clinics will include hitting mechanics, mental approach to hitting as well as drills that prospects can use later to enhance their game. Hitters will receive a video analysis from the Pacific Coaching Staff, and will be given a copy of their performance for their own personal review in the future. Finally, the Defensive component will cover infield, outfield, and catching fundamentals. Each prospect will spend time with each specific defensive position and will be coached by a member of the Pacific staff. Prospects will receive a thorough skills and scouting evaluation with specific points of emphasis. No better opportunity exists to get an in-depth look at Pacific Baseball and its coaching staff..
